SAGINAW, Mich., April 14 .- (AP. Michigan today added 38 votes to the pledged total of Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt, of New York, for the democratic presidential nomination.

eratic presidential nomination.

Besides instructing for the New York governor, the democratic state convention today adopted resolutions favoring repeal of the national and state prohibition laws and restoration of state liquor control. The repeal resolutions precipitated a bediam of cheers and hisses and attempts by drys to modify them were shouted down with cries of "We want beer!"

A resolution favoring immediate payment of adjusted compensation to World War veterans was tabled.

The instructions to the delegation to the national convention directed that Michigan's 28 votes be cast for Roosevelt "as long as in the judgment to the national convention. The caucus came close to fisticust's when a faction opposed to Murphy hurled charges of "railroading."

The caucus adjourned during the midst of the turmoil, and upon reassembling later formally named Murphy and William A. Comstock, several times candidate for governor of clichigan, as the first district delegates.

Hopes of victory this year which have gained since the election of Representative Michael J. Hart, a democrat, in the rock-bound republican eighth congressional district last fall, inspired the best-attended and most tenthusiastic convention of the party Michigan has seen in many years. Chairman Shields attributed the enthusiasm to a conviction "that new blood must be put into the government."

HONOLULU, T. H., April 14 .-(UP)-Lieutenant Thomas H. Massie, of the United States navy, testified in his own defense today before a jury of white, brown and yellow men who are hearing his trial on charges of killing a Hawaiian who, it is alleged, had attacked his young wife. With a tenseness that betrayed his efforts to restrain all emotion, Massie related the story of the dark, oonless night of last September that ended with his wife in the hospital, victim of a brutal, revolting attack by a gang of half-caste islanders.

Slowly, gently, but with tremendous dramatic effect, Clarence Darrow, chief of the defense counsel, led Massie toward the sequel of that attack—the slaying of Joe Kahahawai, stalwart native athlete.

AT THE CHILDREN'S TABLE

With the arrival of spring many a mother finds herself confronted with jaded appetites among her children. These fickle appetites must meat are excellent for the occasion be tempted, especially where school lunches are prepared.

Why not do this with fresh strawberries, which are unusually fine, plentiful and cheap this season? Strawberries are a universal favorite with both adults and children, but their beauty and color, as well as their delicate fragrance and flavor, make them unusually attractive to the small child. Keep this in mind and try to corner the small child.

the small child. Keep this in mind, and try to serve them so that he gets full benefit of these qualities. Remember that all of us eat with our eyes before we consume with our mouths.

One excellent way in which to serve strawberries in the school lunch on. Pack this in the lunch basket with an envelope of powdered sugar. This is a dainty way to serve them. Combined with whole wheat bread and butter sandwiches, a glass of milk or a cereal drink, it makes a lie nutritious and wholesome school lunch. Another method of serving strawberries au naturel is to arrange

Another method of serving strawberries an nature is to arrange choice berries—after they have been washed carefully, of course—on an individual plate in a circle around a pyramid of powdered sugar.

One finds almost innumerable ways in which to use strawberries—in cocktails, salads and desserts. Strawberries combine with other fruits most successfully. With ingenuity you can work out many delightful combinations with gelatine and other fruits.

Strawberries are also successful in frozen desserts. A simple sherbet recipe consists of one quart of fresh berries, crushed with three-fourths of a cup of sugar and the lightly whipped whites of three eggs. This recipe can be used in an electric refrigerator. Let the berries stand in the sugar an hour, then pour into the freezing tray and freeze until mushy. Transfer to a bowl and add the egg whites, then return to the tray and freeze.

The Occasion Does Some of the Deciding.

The occasion decides the costume. There is one kind of dress for luncheon. another for afternoon bridge, and still another for dinner. Each is appropriately styled to the occasion. Knowing this, can you imagine anyone shopping in a dinner dress, or wearing a sports suit to a formal wearing a sports suit to a formal

The knack of knowing which salad to serve, and which dressing to serve with it, is very easy to acquire. It is just as simple to prepare the correct salad and the correct dressing as it is to prepare the incorrect one.

So, there are appropriate salad dressings for each different kind of salad.
The old saying, "Make the sauce to fit the dish," could well be said, "Mix the dressing to suit the salad." For some things go together and some do not. We make salads of fruits, meats, vegetables and seafood. All so different! Is there any reason, then, why we should force one blanket flavor over everything? Should we put the same salad dressions. Each kind of salad has its appropriate place . . . its own function in the pleasant art of dining. Some, undoubtedly, are best served at formal dinners. plifted by arranging the plates in the pantry before the guests arrive. The dressing, however, need not be added until the salad comes to the table. Each guest may help herself to the dressing, taking just as much or as little as she likes.

The hostess may exercise much ingenuity in decorating the salad platter or plates—but she should bear in mind that only edible garnishes are in good taste. Cucumbers and radishes cut to represent flowers, lemon baskets or whole beets, filled with India relish or caviar, are attractive. Open sandwiches of many sorts, cream cheese balls, or American cheese that has been grated and then shaped to represent carrots or strawberries—all these add interest to the salad course.

A new frosted dairy product made with fresh cream couraged to eat it often between meals because it contains valuable vitaand mineral salts they need

Here is a wonderful new refreshment—the latest discovery in frozen dessert. A delicious new product at a price everyone can afford... positively luscious!

What, you ask, is Cremefrost? It is a new frosted dairy product discovered by us last year, and is made with fresh cream, rich wholesome milk, the finest flavorings, and sparkling granulated sugar.

Not an ice cream, although those who eat it for the first time say "It tastes like home-made ice cream"...not a sherbet as you know sherbets... Cremefrost is more creamy... much smoother and more tasty than any sherbet you have ever eaten.

You can get Cremefrost at most druggists and ice cream dealers. Genuine Cremefrost is only sold in delf blue pint pails and 5c cups, filled-at-the-freezer...untouched by hands, in three popular flavors: Orange, Strawberry and Chocolate.

here tonight as members of the state democratic executive committee assembled for tomorrow's meeting to adopt rules and regulations governing the September primary for state offices.

Tomorrow's assemblage will mark the first meeting of the full executive committee this year. Rules and regulations of the recent presidential primary were promulgated by a subcommittee named for that purpose.

The committee is also to select the date for closing entries in the primary. The closing time in 1930 was June 3. The time for the primary is fixed by law. This year it falls on September 14.

Assessments to be paid by candidates for the various state offices are also to be set by the committee.

The offices to be voted on by the people this year are:

United States senate, the junior post now hell by Senator Walter F. George: governor, secretary of state, attorney-general, state treasurer comptroller general, commissioner of commerce and-labor, state superintendent of schools, prison commissioner of commerce and-labor, state superintendent of schools, prison commissioner, the chairmanship now held by E. I., Rainey; two public service commissioners, posts now held by Jule W. Felton and Albert Woodruff; two justices of the supreme court, to succeed Justices James K. Hines and Warner Hill; two judges of the court of appeals, to succeed Judges O. H. B. Bloodworth and Alexander Stephens.

Only one of the incumbents, Judge O. H. P. Bloodworth and Alexander Stephens.

Never before has such a large corporation been placed in receivership. The company is the distributing unit of the Insull projects. It controls public utilities in 30 states and Canada, serving 6,575,000 persons in 5,321 cities. Subsidiaries operate 498 electric generating stations, 81 gas plants, 18 heating plants, electric transmission lines totaling 30,969 miles and gas mains totaling 4,879 miles.

Interlocked with Middlewest Utilities are Insull's two investment trusts. Insull Utility Investments, Inc., and the Corporation Securities Company, of Chicago. The latter concerns are closely allied. The three corporations represent $2,500,000,000. Middlewest Utilities now has securities in the hands of the public valued at $1,245, 000,000 par.

Insull's meetings with bankers have been secret. They consequently have been the excuse for demoralized selling of Insull securities on both the New York and Chicago exchanges. Americus Man Is Elected Head of Education Body

J. E. Mathis Named President of Georgia Education Association.

MACON, Ga., April 14.-(P)-J. E. Mathis, superintendent of schools. Americus, Ga., tonight was elected president of the Georgia Education Association. On motion of Lawton B. Evans, of Richmond county, the rules were suspended and election of officers made at tonight's session.

Other officers elected were: M. L. Little, Louisville, Ga., vice president A. G. Elcan, Bainbridge, treasurer (reelected); F. F. Rowe, LaGrange, director, succeeding J. I. Allman, of Atlanta, whose term had expired.

Kyle T. Alfriend, secretary, has not completed his term.

Georgia teachers of high and low degree were arriving by the hundreds in Macon today for the sixty-seventh annual convention of the association. and officials estimated the attendance for the main sessions Friday and Saturday may exceed that of last year. when 4,001 were registered.

Virtually every school in the state was to be closed this afternoon for a week-end holiday to permit the teachers to attend the convention, and many instructors in the higher insti-tutions are already here for various divisional conferences.

The convention was opened with a session beginning at 8:30 o'clock tonight, in which President Guy H. Wells, of Statesboro, made the annual report on association affairs, and Dr. E. W. Butterfield, of Hart-ford, Conn. superintendent of schools a that state, was the main speaker.

The Friday morning session will begin at 9:30 o'clock, and all main convention meetings will be held in the municipal auditorium. Various departmental meetings will be in progress throughout the rest of the week in other places.

Georgia parents and teachers con-uded their annual convention here rednesday, but many are remaining for the other meetings. Their sessions were in Mulberry Street Methodist church.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE— WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks punk, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine.

For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bila is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul, skin often breaks out in blemishes. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes those good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILIS to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely. But don't ask for lives a." But don't ask for liver pills. They are ready to scrap the "capitalistic system" for a better one. This much maligned system is simply the theory that every man ha the right, under the law, to get and keep as much as he can.

The charge against it is not that it makes people poor, for in ordinary times it does not, but that it enables a few people to become too rich. Why too rich?' Because there is a point beyond which the growth of a great fortune is almost automatic. Its normal increase, too great to be expended for personal pleasure, reaches out to absorb more and more properties and industries, until in the course of time it controls the business of a nation.

But where is a better system to be found?
Somebody must save. If nobody saves enough wheat for seed, there will be no planting next year. Somebody must accumulate enough money to build machinery and factories and ships and thus provide jobs for the others. Somebody with unusual ability and special training must organize and direct the vast machinery of commerce, else there will be no prosperity for anybody.

Let the people run things, you say. But you don't mean that literally. The people might choose new managers, but under any system the ordinary man must continue at his job, as the ordinary man does

Are you willing to entrust America's industry and commerce to politicians? That is the only alternative to "capitalism."

It works in Russia, where the leaders are content in poverty and the people are filled with a religious zeal to serve. But Russians think it immoral to make money, and Americans have a different idea.

"I have been asked to express as a businessman an opinion on Governor Roosevelt's speech over the radio last week, which has been criticized by the opposing press and even by one or two democrats who should be his friends, as demagogic, specifically in the expression of 'the forgotten man,' his statement rend.

"Governor Roosevelt has been accused of a desire to array the poor against the rich, of creating a class antagonism. "Governor Smith, in his Washington speech last night, referred to the present tariff as a drain upon the farmer, as a boon to the intrenched manufacturer. It was, as I see it, that thought which motivated governor Roosevelt. He said nothing against the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, but made it clear that it should be supported by additional recent.

"The farmer, it is almost trite to repeat, has nothing to gain from the high tariff, for he competes in world markets for the sale of his products, but in all his purchases he is penalized by a high tariff.

ECONOMY FORCES STRIKE NEW SNAG

House Awaits Hoover as Senate Breaks Over Reduced Appropriations.

BY HENRY F. MISSELWITZ. WASHINGTON, April 14 .- (UP) The huge government economy program was mired tonight.

As a house committee awaited new recommendations from President Hoover on his "omnibus bill" to embody all phases of the proposed $200,000. 000 savings in appropriations for 1933, a sharp debate broke in the senate over a 10 per cent reduction in the treasury and postoffice supply

This measure contains $180,000,000 for federal building projects on which thousands of men are employed. An amendment to the measure by Senator Kenneth McKellar, democrat, Tennessee, asking for the reduction, which would exclude funds for buildings and construction, was hastily offered.

Not, however, before Senator Hiram Johnson, republican, California, and other senators had spoken bitterly of present unemployment conditions and efforts to economize in government Moratorium and Economy.

"Economy was not thought of when the moratorium was passed in December," Johnson said heatedly. "Economy was in a different guise then. It will be in a different guise when the time comes for another moratorium, in June.

"We will make up for the moratorium by taking money from building."

rium by taking money from building projects and forcing men to walk the streets."

Senator Royal Copeland, democrat, Senator Royal Copeland, democrat, New York, criticized any legislation which tended to increase unemployment. He said within two weeks 20 persons have died of starvation in New York hospitals.

"To have that happen in the richest country in the world," he said, "is no handsome tribute to our country."

try.

The house economy committee tabled definite action on the pay cuts provision until the first of the week. The president in the meantime is working on a rough draft of a single bill which Budget Director J. Clawson Roop said would be ready Monday.

son Roop said would be ready Monday.

The committee's decision to table the pay cuts phase of the program came during a tumultuous day in the committee and on the floor of the house. It was regarded as a victory for the president, who firmly opposed separating pay cuts or any other item in the general program from his "omnibus bill."

Chairman John McDuffie, of the economy committee, laid the blame administration.

"We have been waiting since last Saturday for the president's plan," McDuffie said. "We have a good idea what it is, but nothing definite to go on. Now we have to delay until Monday, pending its arrival."

Preliminary debate in the house of the proposed economy program brought out fiery opposition to wage reductions. Representative Fiorella La-Guardia, republican. New York, and Representative William P. Connery, democrat, Massachusetts. led the slashing attack in which both flayed the administration for the move.

Connery shouted angrily that further wage cuts would force the American people "to the place where they will revolt."

LaGuardia said the government by cutting wages would induce private interests to follow suit, and "set us back 50 years" in industrial wage scales. He declared if the house voted for the pay cuts "there is no telling where the lowered scales will go."

$200,000,000 Slash.

A 3200,000.000 cut in federal expenditures is definitely in sight provided there is real determination to econ-omise. Secretary of Treasury Ogden L. Mill's told the senate finance committee.

With a proper tax bill, he said, the economies would bring revenues for the next fiscal year, beginning July 1, that would come within $25,000,000 of offsetting proposed expenditures. By means of a $35,000,000 tax on malt and wort, he added, the budge can be balanced then with $10,000, 000 to spare.

unhesitatingly recommended the original treasury tax program as the best one. This program, he said, was studied carefully, with its effect on individuals and industry considered in each instance.

President Hoover hopes to save $80,000,000 through readjustment of regulations governing payment of federal funds to ex-service men, it was learned tonight.

Outline of Proposal. He submitted the following plan to the house economy committee:

a. Provide that no person except these suffering from combat disability. raking an income tax return of $1.500 if single and $400 additional for each dependent, shall be entitled to any allowance or pension or free hospitalization. (Insurance not to be counted

h. Provide that no person receiving a federal, state or municipal salary above same limits shall receive a neu-sion or allowance.

c. No person receiving free treatment or subsistence in a government hospital or home shall receive more than $20 a month, if without dependents, or $15 if with dependents, the difference to be applied to the support of such home or hospital.

d. Require six months' service prior to November 11, 1918, and war connected disability for emergency officers.

e. Eliminate allowances of payments while urder examination for claims against the government.

f. At slish retrospective allowances for more than six months prior to date of determination or review of al-date of determination or review of allowances or pensions.

g. All men receiving allowances who enlist d after November 11, 1928, to be placed upon the non-war connected disability basis.

h. Modify procedure in suits against the government in World War vetterns, act so as to require review of decision upon basis of evidence before the administration instead of de novo hearing, but not eliminating jury trial.

George Washington At Colonial Exhibit

A special room containing George Washington relics will be a feature of the colonial exhibit to be held next week at the High Museum of Art during the convention of the Garden Club of America, sponsored by the Planters Garden Club. Mrs. Francis Block will act as hostess in the Washington room, and will wear a Martha Washington costume. She will be assisted by a group who will also wear costumes of colonial days. This special feature is the Planters' Club's contribution to the bicentennial celebration of the birth of George Washington.

Among the relics to be placed in the room is the handsome bronze bust by Houdon, which will be loaned by J. J. Haverty for the exhibit. Magnificent portraits of George Washington will ornament the walls of this interesting room.

Mrs. L. C. Daingerfield, president of the Planters' Club, and the moving spirit in the promotion of this interesting feature, requests that relies for the exhibit be sent to the High Museum of Art by Saturday morning. April 16.

University Women Hear Miss Mell.

Abril meeting of the Atlanta branch of University Women was held Wednesday in the Agnes Scott alumnae house, when the club was delightfully entertained by Misses Elizabeth Jackson, Florence Smith, Lucile Alexander and members of the faculty. Mrs. H. F. Thomason presided at the business session, and presented the speaker, Miss Mildred Mell, dean of Shorter College and president of the Georgia section, A. U. W., who traced the history of the American University Women, showing how members of the association of collegiate alumnae living in the south formed the Southern Association of College Women to deal with the problems of women's education which were peculiar to the south. Working first for advancing educational standards, they later turned to financial assistance through scholarships. The overlapping of the work of the two organizations in this field and desire to affiliate with Canadian women in an international federation of University Women, Financial assistance in the form of fellowships for graduate study is now its chief work as the opportunities for women in this field are limited as compared with men, and many women through insufficient funds must for women in this field are limited as compared with men, and many wom-en through insufficient funds must choose between graduate study and impaired health, due to overwork dur-ing the period of study. After Miss Mell's talk tea was served by the hostess, assisted by members of the senior class.

THE WONDERLAND OF OZ No. 11

The two travelers moved steadily towards the Emerald City. Finally Tip asked, "Are you tired?" "Of course not!" replied Jack. "But," he continued, "I shall certainly wear out my wooden joints if I keep on walking." Tip reflected, as they journeyed along, this was true. He regretted that he had not constructed the wooden limbs more substantially. While he was thus engaged they came to a woods where Tip sat down on an old saw-horse to rest. Presently the Pumpkinhead asked; "What is that thing you are sitting on?"

"Oh, this is a horse," replied the boy carelessly "What is a horse?" asked Jack Pumpkinhead.
"Why there are two kinds of horses," returned "Why there are two kinds of horses," returned Tip. "One kind is alive and has four legs and a head and a tail, and people ride on its back." "I understand!" said Jack cheerfully. "That's the kind of a horse you are now sitting on." isn't!" answered Tip promptly. "Well, it has four legs, a head and a tail!" said Jack. Tip looked at the saw-horse carefully and found that the Pump-kinhead was right.

The body, formed from a tree trunk, had a branch at one end which resembled a tail. On the other end two big knots resembled eyes, and a place had been chopped away which resembled a mouth. "You are right," said Tip, "this resem-bles a real horse very much. But this horse is not alive, and it never will be, being made of wood." "So am !!" answered the man. "Why so you are!" exclaimed Tip, "and here is the magic powder that brought you to life."

Tip looked at the pepper box. "I wonder if it would bring the saw-horse to life," said he. "If it would," replied Jack, "I could ride on it and save "I'll try it!" cried the boy, and jumping up he began to sprinkle the magic powder on the horse's back. Then holding his hands the way Mombi did he said, "Weaugh." "What does that mean, dear father?" asked Jack. "That you must be quiet," said Tip. "Teaugh." Then "Peaugh." Immediately the saw-horse kicked up his heels and knecked both Jack and Tip over.

FRIENDLY COUNSEL BY CAROLINE CHATFIELD

Problems of general interest submitted by readers will be discussed this column. Correspondence invited. Your name held in confice. Write Miss Chatfield, care The Atlanta Constitution.

DEAR MISS CHATFIELD:

What is the best way to treat an insulting letter from an acquaintance? I have a job that might be called a public one. My salary is paid by the state and that fact lays me liable to the criticism of anybody that pays taxes. There is a certain woman that doesn't like the way I handle my work, though it evidently gives satisfaction to my employers. This woman has written me two insulting letters. I answered the first one and received in reply one worse than the first. I am in doubt whether to ignore this one or to write a tart reply.

J. S. J. NSWER:

ANSWER:

There was a dear old gentleman, now dead, who edited a newspaper. He used to say that the most diagreeable feature in connection with his work was the occasional receipt of rude letters from his readers. In his youth, having a hot temper, he used to answer them and post them, but when he reached the age of discretion he pursued a better plan. As soon as he received such a letter he would sit down and write a fiery answer. The next day he would write another and destroy the second. The last one he put in a pigeon hole of his desk, where it remained until he lost all his heat about the matter, then he consigned if to the waste basket. He used to laugh and say that this plan permitted him to vent his wrath, to sharpen his wits, and, finally, to punish the offender with silence, the worst sort of punishment to administer to a mean spirited, sharp-tongued person.

His plan was a fine one and worth trying. You don't want to put yourself in the position of trying to justify your method of handling your job, which is tantament to putting yourself on the defensive. You don't want to give the offender the satisfaction of knowing she has got under your skin. You don't want to lay yourself liable to another rebuke from her. Therefore, these considerations eliminate all but the course pursued by the kindly old gentleman.

"The soft answer turns away wrath," and no answer at all is the most baffling rebuke. If you don't reply the would-be correspondent is never sure her letter was received. She is never sure what sort of impression it made, if it was received. She can imagine a thousand things, but she knows nothing.

CAROLINE CHATFIELD.

Auburn Plays Tech Here Today; Petrels Meet Georgia at Athens CRACKERS BEAT OUT VOLS IN TENTH, 4 TO 3

SMITH EXPECTED TO TAKE MOUND FOR CHAMPIONS

Mitchum or Stribling for Tech; Mitchell To Oppose Chandler.

By Jack Troy.

The burden of proof will rest doubly on Georgia Tech when Auburn's championship Tigers come to town for an important two-game Dixie leegue series today and tomorrow at the Rose Rowl. Today's game will ret under way at 4 o'clock.

In the first place, Auburn, with Florida, is leading the Dixie league with two victories and no defeats. And in the second place—that's Tech's present position in the league standings, incidentally—Cantain Clifford present position in the league standings, incidentally—Captain Clifford Smith, All-American and All-Dixie league moundsman, who has hurled 16 consecutive scoreless innings against the Jackets, may take up today where he left off last season.

Coach Sam McAllister, who is anxious to win both games of the Tech series, likely will use Smith, his ace nitcher in the oneser and follow, per-pitcher, in the opener and follow, per-naps, with Ripper Williams, stellar homore, Saturday, MITCHUM OR STRIBLING.

Either Leon Mitchum or Sarv Strib-ling will be Coach Bobby Dodd's choice to pitch. Camera Uses Almost Three Miles of Celluloid Per Minute To "Stop" Action.

Celluloid movie film, speeding through a camera at almost three iles a minute, can do a curious lot of things to motion. It can stop it, no matter how fast the action may be, to about the speed of molasses

There were those movies of Harry Vardon, Bobby Jones and Miss Joyce Wethered, which George Sargent, East Lake professional, showed last night following the buffet supper at the town club.

The camera, of which there are only four in existence, shows every notion, no matter how slight, of the three most famous and most consistent golfers in the world.

The ordinary movie camera takes about 16 pictures per second. The slow-speed camera takes 120 pictures per second. Which is pretty slow. Or fast, as you will have it. But the ultra-speed camera takes 3,200 pictures per second. using about 200 feet of film per second as it races through. But

John D. Martin, the Southern association's president, has traveled 2.100 miles and has seen three opening baseball games in the last three days, but he hasn't seen any signs of depression in the business.

While the bands played and the people cheered at nothing at all, Mr. Martin stood around in the dugout of the Crackers, who opened with Nashville here yesterday before a huge crowd, and said that the Southern association this year is going to be fast and well-balanced and that he looks for a good rage.

And Mr. Martin didn't come out before all those people—right at hand were Chip Robert and Bob Jones, the golfer, who are directors of the club. and Governor Dick Russell—and say it, but he inferred that if the league remained well balanced on down into late August and had a fast race that none of the club owners would be talking about the depression.

The league head, who is a lawyer and a short story writer when there is time on his hauds, hopped to Atlanta from Little Rock, leaving there Wednesday before the game ended and

Cold Check Trains G. M. A. Netmen Hard for Derby

Bill Crump, who is training Cold Cheek, has figured that the chestnut son of High Time has run somewhere in the neighborhood of 200 miles in jegs, galleps and breezes since being brought from the Farrish farm.

And Cold Cheek has led a much casier life than some of the other Derby eligibles stabled here at Churchill Downs.

Crump says his charge still needs a few miles of work before being on edge for the big event.

Elrod and Silva, two of the veterans from last year, have played particularly good in recent matches and practices. M. C. Paget is coach of the tennis team.

REDS 8; CUBS 3.

CINCINNATI, April 14.—A five-run first inning, aided by triples from the bats of Babe Herman and Mickey Heath was too much for Chicago's Cubs to overcome today and they lost to the Cincinnati Reds, 5 to 3.

and they lost to the Cincinnati Reds, 5 to 3.

The Reds gathered four hits off Bob Smith's curres in that first inning, Heath's triple being his first blow of the season, but could not score thereafter.

The Reds played without the services of two aces. Ernest Lombardi, catcher, cracked a bone of the right index finger stopping a foul tip yesterday and will be out 10 days or more. Grantham twisted an ankle stopping a liner in the same game, and may be out a week.

Murdock's Triple Brings Decatur Win

Murdock's triple in the ninth in-ning paved the way for Decatur's 14-to-13 victory over Russell High, in a game moved up from Friday after-noon, in the North Georgia Interscho-lastic conference.

It was a slugging match from the cery beginning and Anderson's two nome runs featured for Decatur. Partridge also hit a home run and to-gether McKinley, with three singles, aided materially in Decatur's win. Horusby and Gibson hit home runs for Russell. Hornsby also hit a dou-ble and single, while Reddick secured three singles.

Pitching Departments Record Fine Performances Despite Cold.

By Hugh S. Fullerton Jr. Associated Press Staff Writer.

NEW YORK, April 14 .- (A)-The

NEW YORK, April 14.—(49)—The pitching department, which seems to have made a good start all around this season, recorded a set of brilliant performances today in the four major league games that survived the attacks of cold weather.

Young Whitlow Wyatt, of Detroit, set the pace with a four-hit game against Cleveland. Sammy Gray, of the St. Louis Browns, gave Chicago only five hits and three other seven-hit performances were turned in, two of them by losing pitchers. Only two teams, the Pittsburgh Pirates and Cincinnati Reds, could do any serious clouting.

Wyatt did an especially fine job as he pitched the Tigers to a 3-to-1 victory over Cleveland's Indians. Not only did he keep four blows well scattered, but he gave only one walk and fanned seven. Two of the four Indians who got on base were cut down by double plays. Johnny Hodapp slipped over the only run against him while the Tigers were running down Morgan off first. Detroit found Willis Hudlin, one of the seven-hit

At the left is Si Rosenthal trotting home after hitting a home run in the ninth inning to tie the score at 3-all. Rosy is seen indulging in spitting on the old hands for luck—a favorite habit of his. He wants another home run. In the center is just a small part of the large crowd that swarmed on the field to crowd about the Cracker dugout to cheer the here of the hour after his home run. And at the right is the first act in the final bit of drama -the scoring of the winning run. Andy Messenger, pitcher, singled. He is shown on first base just after Manager Red Barron, in the picture with him, had helped him don his coat. A moment later Goff's sacrifice was thrown wild by Mule Shirley and Messenger scored with the winning run. Photos by Rogers and Cornett, Constitution staff.

RICKARD'S HELP' Rosenthal Returns NOW PROMOTING

Combine To Put on Shows in Opposition to Garden.

New York, April 14 .- (UP)-Five former employes of Madison Square Garden, all trained by the late Tex. Rickard, have decided to enter the boxing industry in opposition to the Garden, and stage a series of important, popularly-priced matches at Yankee stadium this summer.

Yankee stadium this summer.

Joe Boyton, who was chief of the Garden's box office for 10 years, will head the new organization. Jess McMahon, Tex Rickard's matchmaker, will serve in that capacity. Other officials include Fred Halm, as vice president; Dan Lysat, treasurer, and Frank Ryan, secretary, all of whom were box office men at the Garden.
Colonel Jacob Ruppert, owner of Yankee stadium, said tonight he had not received the new organization's proposition as yet, but he was almost certain he would do business with them if they made a fair offer.
Boyton, said the proposition had been handed to Ruppert's secretary, who will give it to the colonel tomorrow. Boyton explained he and his associates were stepping in when the time was "ripe," because of the recent split between the Garden and Colonel Ruppert over Yankee stadium rentals for fights.

The Garden is to build its own fight stadium on Long, Island, leaving the Yankee stadium open for enterprising promoters.

Atlanta had no ballyhoo, such as brought out the crowds at Nashville. And yet the crowd was almost as large. This is really very remarkable because there is no doubt but that the 1931 baseball organization soured the fans mightily. The wonder is that more than 12,000 appeared. Atlanta easily outclassed Memphis, Birmingham and New Orleans, all of whom had less than 10,000 each. Atlanta maintains her place as the best baseball city year after year.

THREE FINE FELLOWS SADDENED.

Never has there been a sadder sight than that offered by our three compatriots of the press from Nashville. Mr. Freddie Russell, of the Nashville Banner; Mr. Blinky Horn, of the Nashville Tennessean, and Bill Rollow, of the afternoon Tennessean, were jaunty and a bit condescending as the game wore on and Wertz's fast ball wore out the Crackers.

In the ninth, with two out and the Vols three runs ahead, the gentlemen from Nashville were speaking softly and sympathetically toward the Atlanta baseball writers.

And then came Rosenthal's pulse-shattering home run to tie the score and the subsequent Atlanta victory in the tenth. Mr. Horn shed tears as large as billiard balls. Mr. Rollow broke down and sobbed audibly. Mr. Russell tried to leap from the suspended press box and was saved only by the intervention of friends. It was a sad day for the boys from Nashville.

NECESSITY IS, ETC.

Necessity is, so someone said, the mother of invention. Hence it was not surprising to see one ingenious young man at the score and the subsequent Atlanta victory in the tenth. Mr. art of deceiving any eagle-eyed prohibition men.

He had purchased one of those square boxes of popcorn and emptied it all on the floor. And what is squarer than a square box of popcorn? Why, a gin bottle, Dorothy, that is the answer.

And so in his square popcorn box he had his square bottle of gin. And it was a neat fit.

BARRON IS PROUD.

Red Barron was proud of his team and its great finish. When this reporter entered the club quarters after the game there was a great chatter of conversation. Rosenthal was receiving congratulations; Red Barnes was baking a leg scraped in his climb after the fly ball he caught in the fourth. And Barron was excited and pleased and proud.

In the Vol quarters there was a great deal of silence. There was so much that one had to shove it aside to get in the door. It makes a great deal of difference, does the score, as to which dressing room is happy?

doing the hitting, won the second best doing the hitting, won the second best game on the pitching list. Kress' wallop gave the Browns two runs and they stopped the Chicago White Sox, 3 to 0. Gray faced only 31 batsmen and all the five hits he gave were singles. Frasier and Faber held St. Louis to seven blows.

The Pittsburgh Pirates also got the benefit of seven-hit pitching with Harris and French dividing the work, and they turned it into a victory. After spotting the St. Louis Cardi-nals three runs in the fourth, they tied the count in the eighth inning and pushed over another run in the ninth to give the world champions their first defeat of the season. HIT BOB SMITH.

Cincinnati's Reds hit Bob Smith and Jakie May, of Chicago, in every inning for a total of 12 safeties, while Red Lucas was limiting the Cubs to eight. The Reds bunched four of their best wallops, triples by Babe Herman and Heath and doubles by Gilbert and Manion, along with a walk, a hit batsman and some weak Cub fielding, in the first inning and scored all the runs that gave them a 5-3 victory. scored all the a 5-3 victory.

NEW WAR THREATS HEARD BY CHINESE Tom Mix at Capitol In Destry Rides Ag

Communist Activities in Harbin and Amoy Reported in Shanghai.

BY MORRIS J. HARRIS.
SHANGHAI, April 14.—(P)—War and preparations for war in two spots far removed from Shanghai stirred China today and "communism" dotted dispatches describing the conflicts. The two spots were Harbin, Manchuria, and Amoy, Cantonese China, almost equidistant from Shanghai, Amoy being about 850 miles southwest and Harbin about 900 miles northwest.

Dispatches from Harbin told of inoreasing opposition to the new state of Manchoukuo, and stressed that General Mah Chan-shan had withdrawn his support from the Japanese-sponsored Henry Pu-yi, and had established headquarters on soviet Russian territory.

He intended to attack Manchoukur He intended to attack Mancholskin from the north, it was said, and at present is at Blagoveschensk, Siberia, just across the river from his former capital, Heilungkiang, in the state of Heilungkiang, Manchuria. Koreán and Chinese communists were reported assisting Chinese ir-regulars throughout northeastern Heil-regulars throughout northeastern Heilungkiang.

Amoy dispatches said Chinese red armies in Fukien province, against whom the Nanking government recently sent large bodies of troops in an effort to head off civil war, were converging on Changchow in retreat.
British missionaries at Changchow, which is 25 miles west of Amoy, were reported evacuating as the communist troops approached. Foreigners at Amoy were uneasy. British officials asked for a warship to protect the port.

Meanwhile, peace parleys in the old Shanghai war zone were at a standstill, with Mamoru Shigemitsu, the Japanese minister to China, verbally attacking the Chinese reference of peace proposals to the League of Nations tions.

He said this action signified the collapse of the parleys and left the way open for Japan to take any action she may deem necessary to protect her interests.

While the British open championship has been comparatively easy for American pros to win, and one solitary amateur in Bobby Jones, it has tary amateur in Bobby Jones, it has also been easier to win two years in a row than the American classic. Bobby Jones won the former twice in succession in 1926 and 1927, and Hagen repeated the next two years. Only once since the early standard-bearer of native American pros, Johnny McDermott, won in 1911 and 1912, has the American open title been held two years in succession by the same expert. Jones turned this trick in 1930 at Interlachen after winning the previous year at Winged Foot.

Reviewing the Shows

In 'Destry Rides Again'

Tom Mix, the hero of many a wild western story, comes to the Capitol theater today in his first talking picture, "Destry Rides Again," from the famous novel of the same name. Tony, Mix's wonder horse and inseparable pal of many a movie campaign, is back, too many a movie campaign, is back, too.

Mix has just returned to Hollywood from a long trip of circus campaigns. He has toured practically every big city of this country with Tony and many of his excellent horsemen. In "Destry Rides Again," Mix is said to unfold a bag of new riding tricks. Advance reports say that the picture is full of romance and action, with the star doing more breathless tricks than ever before.

The Bidding: East South West Pass Pass Pass Pass Pass Pass Pass Pass Pass Pass

The bidding of the hand follows accepted principles. South's Forcing Takeout (holding 4 honor-tricks) is, of course, obvious, as is South's Raise to the Slam contract after his partner has shown that he can support a twice

West opened the Queen of diamonds, South won with the Ace and immediately took the club finesse. At most tables East won this trick immediately and then, after South had taken the necessary finesse in trumps, East and West were compelled to concede defeat. At two tables, however, East refused to win the first club trick with his King and at one this ruse resulted in the defeat of the contract, as the Declarer, wrongly placing the club King in the West hand, then took the spade finesse, which held, and after drawing the adverse trumps, finessed the club suit the second time and lost a diamond trick as well.

At the other table, where East elected to decline the club trick, the Declarer proceeded with more caution. While the play probably indicated that West held the club King, South could see no harm in making assurance doubly sure. After winning the second trick with the club Knave, he returned to his own hand with the Ace of hearts and led one of his diamonds to trump in the Dummy. A trump was then led and the Ten finessed, and when this held, South led the third round of diamonds, trumping with Dummy's last trump. Schumann, Debussy, Chopin and Liszt.

When playing against a Slam contract, it is generally a good rule to take a trick when you find it, but in a recent national event, in which some of the strongest players in the world were pitting their wits against each other, one of the world's ranking players elected to refuse to win a trick and thereby set a trap for the opposing player, which almost brought about the defeat of the Slam. The hand was played a few months ago in the annual contest for the city of Asbury Park challenge trophy. One of the critical deals in the final round was the following:

NEW YORK, April 14.—(P)—After an early break through previous resistance points, the stock market took a more cheerful view of things today and swung into a rally that proved to be the best since March 2.

A reassuring statement from Samuel Insull, who said his three big operating companies would not be affected by anything that might befall Middle West Utilities, and some second thoughts on the more aggressive federal reserve credit expansion policy provided sparks that touched off lively short covering. The average net gain for 90 stocks was 2.1 points.

Recoveries from the first-hour lows were even more impressive. In that period virtually every pivotal issue explored new low territory and in an atmosphere of almost complete desponder from what direction relief was to come. However, Mr. Insull's announcement served to lift pressure against utilities, while the remark of Governor Meyer, of the federal reserve board, that he was "hopeful" the country could now "hold the line" contributed to better feeling.

The decline, while it lasted, was sharp, ranging roughly from 1 to 5 points, although this helped guarantee a healthy rally once the tide turned. United States Steel finished up 5-8. Norfolk & Western converted a 5-point loss into a gain of 3. Sales increased to (AS9.410 shares.

Money markets were easy even if the federal reserve bank did not see fit to change the rediscount rate at this time. A fair volume of bankers' acceptances came out of hiding and were promptly snapped up. United States government bonds, making the largest gains of the year, eloquently announced their reactions to the fresh drive against deflation.

The weekly reserve bank statement showed that the system had lost no time in embarking on the larger open market operations of which Wall Street got its first inkling yesterday.

IS URGED FOR BANKS

PITTSBURGH, Pa., April 14.—
"If every strong bank in the country would courageously and properly advertise at this time, public confidence would be tremendously strengthened," is the statement made today by Edwin Bird Wilson, pioneer financial advertiser and president of Edwin Bird Wilson, Inc., New York, before the fifth annual advertising exposition and conference of the Pittsburgh Advertising Club.
"Too many banks have discon-

"Too many banks have discontinued their advertising during the depression," said Mr. Wilson. "Too many have decreased it. Too many have failed to begin it. There may be conditions where silence is golden. below April 1 government gures and pristantial reductions from 98,000,000 bushels

Corn made only partial response to recrease in outside luterest and the market can lead the way to business restora-tion by using this sound method of re-establishing public confidence. Some have kept up their confidence-build-ing work all through the depression. They will be the first to feel the bene-fits.

They will be the first to feel the benefits.

Purposes Served.

"And in the fiduciary field." continued Mr. Wilson, "those elements of advertising which were prominent a few years ago have served their purpose. The best type of present trust advertising assumes that the prospective maker of an estate or trust is a businessman or woman and must be sold on trust company service by sound business arguments. The sad pictures of widows, empty chairs and crying orphans are replaced today by pictures of businessmen and women planning their estates to make them as useful as possible to heirs and beneficiaries. Why this corporation or that is qualified to act in planning estates and managing them economically is the modern keynote, a note that rings true to present conditions. "In harmony with this keynote is the advertising that points out the advisability of the maker of trusts employing an attorney to prepare the necessary documents, while the fiduciary keeps its proper place as business adviser and manager. Co-operation on a fair basis between attorneys and trust institutions is fundamental to the continued full success of the beneficent work of corporate trust management. It will be a good day for both the bar and the trust institution when complete understanding prevails between the two.

"When we boil things down to their essentials, there are two enormously important economic problems in America today: (1) to provide steady, profitable investment for all who wish it; (2) to provide safety and profitable investment for all money that a fully employed people wish to save out of the wages of their work.

"The next five years will be a good time also for security advertising. There will be better goods to advertise. There has been a great house-cleaning. The survivors are stronger, cleaner and more conscious than ever of their trusteeship. Decent advertising of decent financial goods will have a fairer chance of success, because of the elimination of factors which robbed the fields of sound investment.

"Advertising

NEW YORK, April 14 .- (AP)-United States government bonds soared today and the badly battered United States government bonds soared today and the badly battered low-priced railway list rallied sufficiently to put a modest plus sign in front of the general averages for the first time since March 22.

All of the federals climbed to new highs for 1932, gains ranging from 1 to more than 2 points. While the Liberties were staunchly supported the treasuries were in the greatest demand. Treasury 3 1-Ss. 1946-49, registered, jumped more than 10 points on the first sale this year.

Belief that the federal reserve system will increase its purchases of government securities to $75,000,000 week or more, as indicated at Washington yesterday, brought a rush of buying from traders and investors.

A demand for speculative carrier liens came into the market near the close of the session and gains of from 1 to 3 or more points were regisered by various rail bonds.

RAILS SEEK TO BAR

WASHINGTON. April 14.—(P)—
The Missouri Pacific and the Texas & Pacific railroads have filed suit at Frankfort, Ky., in an effort to prevent taking over of the Cotton Belt railroad by the Southern Pacific.
Notice of the suit was filed with the interstate commerce commission last night.

W. U., POSTAL MERGER

NEW YORK, April 14.—(P)—The curb market took a new lease on life today and, led by the utilities, reversed the dreary decline which has marked recent sessions.

Among outstanding performers of the day was Electric Bond & Share whose new common closed with a net gain of 1 7-8 points, while both of the company's preferred issues raised their prices around 5 points.

The strength of Electric Bond & Share was explained after the close

The strength of Electric Bond & Share was explained after the close of the market in an announcement from the company that arrangements had been made to extend for one year the bank loans of its subsidiaries, American & Foreign Power and United Gas which mature in October and July, respectively.

While the specialty list also did better, as a whole, some of the oils, notably Standard of Ohio and Humble, were unable to hold their gains and closed more than 1 point off.

Turnover approximated 270,000 shares, compared with 240,000 yesterday.

ing of stocks by important people con-ing of stocks by important people continued in increased volume today with the result that, following an early wave of liquidation which swept prices to new low levels for the bear market, the general list recovered all of the carly decline and closed with a substantial net gain.

Unlike most recent flareups in prices, today's improvement had the solid foundation of absorption by important banking interests who are taking a more hopeful view of the stock market. Betterment in general conditions is expected to accrue from the new efforts to inject further ease into credit conditions through utilization of the recent amendments to the federal reserve act resulting from the Glass-Steagall banking measure.

The bankers had refrained from the Glass-Steagall banking measure because of the Glass-Steagall measure because of the appearance of the Glass bill, new under discussion, but it is understood that they have concluded that the most recent measure will not be passed.

There is also an assumption that ure will not be passed.

There is also an assumption that the soldiers' bonus bill will be killed and that a new and more acceptable tax bill will come out of the senate.

PEOPLE'S GAS LEADS.

PEOPLE'S GAS LEADS.

The turnabout of the general market followed a sharp advance in People's Gas stock which occurred simultaneously with the publication of a statement by Samuel Insull that the three big operating properties of his group in the Chicago area had no troubles linked up with the difficulties of the holding companies.

At one time People's Gas showed an advance of more than 10 points. There were also rumors that the Insull situation had been satisfactorily provided for but these could not be confirmed.

The statement by Eugene Meyer, governor of the federal reserve board, revealing some details of the financial aid given by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation to 1.319 banks, largely in cities of a population of less than 100,000, also contributed to the better feeling.

Mr. Meyer also stated that $250.

IS DENIED BY CARLTON

NEW YORK, April 14.—(P)—Newteem Union Telegraph, said today that no merger of his company with its chief competitor, Postal Telegraph, was being discussed.

His remarks at the Western Union stockholders' annual meeting yesterday had given rise to reports that such a consolidation might be under consideration.

"I merely expressed a thought," Mr. Carlton explained today, "that must come to most people in this day of economy and retrenchment when they observe the costly duplication of Bourbon monarchy and the founding 19 Turkish aromat-Bourbon monarchy and the founding of the republic today.

Throughout the country there were fireworks, parades, bands, folk dances, and orations. The holiday was climaxed with the colorful flower battles, so dear to the hearts of Spaniards.

The celebration began last night with a huge parade of floats in Madrid, arranged by Indalecio Prieto, one of the little group of republican leaders who a year ago today met after the abdication of King Alfonso, to lay the first plans for the new government.

any more obligations. Something like that."

It wasn't true and she wanted to tell him it wasn't. But it would be better for Dick to feel this way, she thought, than to know the truth. To know Elton Day had got the job for her through a trick that could only affect Dick Mason if it were discovered. She must let him think that she really wanted to be let alone. Nothing else would do.

Judy smiled at Dick. "I'd like to feel I didn't have to impose on you any more," she said. "You've done so much more for me already than you ought to have done, Dick. Don't worry about announcing me. Don't you understand?"

"Yes" Dick said alone, "I'd like to Got to work on an idea, any-how."

"Yes," Dick said slewly. "I understand, Judy. But—impose—"

"I didn't mean that, Dick. When I try to talk I always get the wrong words. I just meant I don't think it's fair to worry you any longer when you've so much on your mind already."

"You're writing?"

Having said that, she could have bitten off her tongue. For the dark flush showed on Dick's face again; bitten off her tongue. For the dark flush showed on Dick's face again; the flush that said, "I made a mistake. I told you a secret I'd kept from everybody. And now you keep feeling sorry for me about it."

Men love to have women feel sorry for them, Judy's mother had said; but Judy revised that rule. Men don't want a woman to show she is sorry for them: they want to feel she is hiding her pity. A great difference that some women never learn, and yet Judy was sure it was right.

"Well," she attempted now. "what's next on your schedule, Dick?"

"Oh—a dramatic show. David Owen is doing it. Smart director. He stages 'Skippy,' too. I—Hello, Harlow."

A tall. dark-haired man said, "Hello, Dick." and went on into one of the studios. Judy's eyes looked of the studios. Judy said Dick. Judy said points and softy. The nodded past her. "Friend of ours coming." he said softy. Judy sa es loon told her about the people who depended on him, knowing that anything that menaced his job menaced his happiness, she couldn't let him take any risk. She decided on another course.

"Dick, it sounds silly, of course. But I'm so anxious to—well, to stand on my own feet."

His eyes darkened. She could tell he was saying. "Yes, I see. You think you can get along without me. So you don't want me around any more. You don't want to feel under any more obligations. Something like that."

"How can they do it, Dick?"

"Lots of other acts wish they knew, Judy. But most of ther adoit on the radio—doing a scene he's went on the radio—doing a scene he's deet thousands of times on the stage—he went absolutely cold. Couldn't say a word. Just gasped and choked and shivered. Scared to death."

"And what happened?"

"I asked questions. And answered myself, until time was up. And then got a lot of letters telling me what a conceited fool I was for talking when a really great man was sup-
